Local Lads Battle For European Grey Cup

The following is a sports report from the RCAF base at Metz, France.

Shown above are two of the western lads who will take part in the contest. Shown on the left is Cpl. Gordon McQuarrie and the man from Didsbury. He is the son of Mrs. Inez McQuarrie, who lives in Didsbury, and Leading Airman L.A. Richard Law. We quote now from the press release:

"Metz, France — Sports-minded Canadian air force personnel and their dependents in Europe are keeping a keen watch on the Canadian football picture developing at home but today seems to be even more interesting in their own Grey Cup." (Europe classic which will be played a week from today at Post-Boeing stadium in Metz, France)

The game will be accompanied by a parade of floats, East and West roofing section, a Grey Cup Queen, hot dogs, under the stars in France and as much of the atmosphere of the Grey Cup in Canada as the RCAF here in Europe can recreate."

Home & School Hold Meeting

In spite of the very stormy night, a good number of Home and School members turned out for the November meeting on Monday evening. "Young Canada Book Week" was the theme.

A very interesting film was presented entitled "Better Reading". This was followed by a talk on a book, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Books", by Miss Helen Brown. This proved so interesting that the association will purchase copies of this book and they will be on sale at the January meeting.

Mrs. Eubank, Home Economics teacher, spoke briefly on her department of our school. Her grade nine class had on display three costumes made up by them, suitable for the Christmas table. In keeping with Memorial Day, Mrs. Neufeld sang "In Flanner's Field".

The meeting adjourned at 9 p.m. after which we enjoyed a half hour of chit-chat and lunch.

The next meeting of the group will be held on January 11th.

Midway News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

A family gathering met at the J. C. McCullagh home recently, the occasion being the 85th birthday of Mrs. Emily Richardson, mother of Mrs. McCullagh. A short program was provided by the great-grandchildren; gifts were presented and family pictures taken.

Mrs. Terry Janzen, with her husband, was flanked by her birthday cake which was flanked by pink napkins and carried by Jessie and Betty Marsh to the tea table where the guest of honor and here friends were seated. The head table included Miss Mary Richardson of Carstairs, Mrs. M. Cristfield of Calgary, Mrs. W. McCullagh of F. P. Ross and Mrs. A. Krebs all of Didsbury.

Joyce Underhay took all prizes for her class in the Armistice Day Post-Boeing Contest, sponsored by the Canadian Legion in this zone.

The United church ham supper was a success, financially and otherwise.

Keep in mind the pre-social on November 27th at Midway, sponsored by the Home and School Association for Christmas treats.

The Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the present church at the Zion Evangelical United Brethren Church of Didsbury was celebrated on Sunday, November 15th, with Rev. Dr. Jessie Supt. of the Northwest Canada Conference as the special speaker.

Despite the very cold weather a good attendance was present for the morning service. The service was very impressive, with the choir of thirty voices rendering beautiful numbers in song and also the male quartette singing a brief history of the church which was given by the pastor, Rev. A. Steeckel.

The work in Didsbury began in 1902 by Rev. C. G. Kaatz and the first church was built in 1903. The old church was destroyed by fire in 1933 and the present church was built and dedicated in 1934. The work of the church is in its 25th year.

The evening service, despite the cold weather was attended by nearly 100 people. Rev. Jessie Supt. was again the special speaker. Following the service the congregation gathered in the basement for a fellowship hour and program followed by lunch. The ladies, under the leadership of Mrs. Ken Sherick, decorated the basement for the occasion. Mr. Bostick related the story of the building of the church from beginning being one of the few remaining that were on the building committee at that time.

A beautiful bouquet of flowers were placed in the church for the occasion in memory of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bersch by Mr. L. Bersch and family. A beautiful cake made to look just like the church was decorated by Mrs. Maynard Snyder.

Greetings and congratulations came from different people, including Rev. and Mrs. Grams and family, former pastor of the church, Rev. and Mrs. Sherman and family.

The congregation feels deeply grateful to God for all His blessings down through the years, and the doors of the church will always be open to those who come for worship. We also cherish the memories of those who were with us and are now gone, the great contributions they have made to the work of the church, and our prayer is that we might continue to make a spiritual contribution to the people of this town and community.

More Stop Signs Needed . . .

There is one very important zone in town which has been over-looked in the stop sign department. Driving past our school area, and the Senior Citizens' Home, you may have noticed no full stop is required by law. This happens to be our path if we take time out for lunch at noon and we do take the necessary precautions, stop sign or no. What would stranger do if he was unaware that it is a school zone and unfortunately dumped over a wee one who did not know the traffic rules either? The wee gals and boys, and older ones as well, should maybe be given instructions as regards one of their favorite pastimes, jay walking. Maybe a few reminders in class during the week would help to straighten them out in this hazardous pastime. Maybe we need a school patrol system to straighten them out. Could be it could save a lot of irregularities that are apparent today.

Legal Sweepstakes Make Sense . . .

A member of the present federal governing body has come up with an idea we like. Has to do with legalized sweepstakes in Canada. Too many Canadians have a stake in hospitals, etc., in far-off lands. It's illegal to buy or sell these ducats in our fair land, but when the ponies cross the finishing post the money won by the holder of a ticket on a winner, or even a starter, can collect the green stuff without penalty (we understand the income tax lads don't even get in on the loot). Is this sort of a deal making sense to you? May our new crusader in Ottawa be successful. Let's spend this sort of money at home — not in faraway places. Let's make it legal and above-board — no more sneaking around the corner.

Telephone Staff Cut Down . . .

The lads who handle the wires for the Alberta Government Telephone System have seen fit to cut the staff of many rural units, "our town" included. We've had our share of beefs at times with the local service but all were settled amicably on both sides. With the new cut-down in service we may not be so easy to get along with. We're paying for fast, efficient service — let's have it! A staff lay-off plan, now in operation, certainly doesn't point towards better service.

Newspaper Business Fascinating

An aroma of fascination surrounds a newspaper, making many persons say they'd like to own one. It is a fascination which clings to everyone except newspaper people. They have no illusions. Now to own a newspaper, here is what you'll have to do in one normal day:

Explain to Mrs. Strong why Aunt Week's 85th birthday was not on the front page.

Explain to an advertiser why it is impossible to get him on page three.

Explain to an ex-subscriber why you had to cut off his unpaid subscription.

Explain deadlines 500 times a day and why you have to have them.

Soothie a lady who called her party in too late.

Explain why some weeks you've got news running out of your ears and other weeks the paper reads like a report on Amalgamated Steel.

Apologize to an advertiser for an error in his ad and smile sweetly when he tells you what an idiot you are.

Decipher scribbling that comes in written on check pads, paper napkins, a corner of junior's arithmetic book, or the back of a letter from Cousin Frank.

Put a bumpy line type that is as nervous as a dash of jello and puts you further behind when you're already behind.

Cope with a folder that is anti-social and wallowing in its own importance that can at this final moment get in the way from getting a paper circulated and start acting like a little boy who wants to go to the bathroom.

Explain to a customer arriving late with copy that if you get his stuff in, you'll have to leave somebody else out and then explain to the one you left out.

This is the kind of mind you'll feel a sense of relief to have for about five minutes. Then you start explaining why you did this or didn't do that and it starts all over again.

FAST TRANSPORTATION . . .

A man in Alaska was arrested for bigamy. He had a wife in Nome and another in Fairbanks and still another in Juneau. The judge looked at the culprit and sternly asked, "How could you do such a thing?"

To which the bigamist replied, "Past due team."

LUNT — OLIVER

The Thanksgiving motif was pre-dominant in the decor used in the Chilliwack United church when Dianne May twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Oliver, Rosedale and Lawrence Stewart, youngest son of Mr. S. Lunt, Rosedale and Samuel Lunt, Agassiz exchanged marriage vows.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Patterson on October 10th.

Baskets of fall flowers and the horn of plenty were used to decorate the church and the Camp River hall where the reception was held.

Mr. Oliver gave his daughter in marriage and Miss Eva Cartmell was organist.

The groom was attended by his brother, Howard Lunt. Donald Cross and Kyle Cross ushered the guests to their seats.

The bride chose a graceful gown in princess style that featured a wide sash and a high round neckline and lily point sleeves. The skirt, posed over taffeta, was in panels of lace and net. A pearl tiara held the shoulder length veil in place.

Her only jewelry was a string of pearls. A crescent bouquet of tallamont roses and white stephanotis tied with a white satin ribbon was held by the bride.

Bridesmaids for the sister was Mrs. John Young who wore a lavender length gown of sapphire blue nylon with floating back panel. Her twin sister was bridesmaid and her coral gown was similar to her sister's. The bridal attendants carried bouquets of cream variegated carnations.

The bridal table was covered with a headboard linen cloth that is over 100 years old. It belonged to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. Brown. Rosedale. Mrs. T. Farrant made and decorated the three-tier wedding cake that was topped with miniature wedding bells and lily of the valley. It was flanked by crystal holders.

When leaving on her honeymoon the bride wore a beige tweed suit, brown shoes, a purple rim hat and gloves. A corsage of bronze mums completed the ensemble.

The bridal couple will reside in North Vancouver.

THE Homemaker

— BY —
ALBERTINE SCHELBRAATE

Before Christmas arrives some of you will be busy and tired and need a change of scene so that your home will look "alive" for all that entertaining you will be doing when the season is here. Well, why not buy some slip covers!

BUYING SLIP COVERS

There are a number of reasons why the use of slip covers on furniture may be considered a wise economy. Permanent furniture upholstery is protected from soil, dust and wear with slip covers. They are often used to bring a new note of colour to an otherwise monotonous room. Frequently, they are used as substitutes for upholstery or to cover worn upholstery.

Slip covers may be bought ready made or the fabrics may be bought by the yard and tailored to measure at home, with or without professional help. Either way, the fabric should be selected with care.

Choose fabrics of suitable weight and strength to withstand hard wear. Fibres should be soft to the touch to tailor or handle when putting on or taking off the furniture. All fabrics should be pre-shrunk before slip covers are made if the covers are to be washed.

Additional factors to consider are ease in laundering or dry cleaning and color fastness to light and washing. Ball fringe, looped or brush fringe, cordings or any other trim should be used on slip covers to fasten to colour pre-shrunk and easy to clean, too.

There is a great variety of weaves in a wide range of textures, colors and designs from which to make a choice. And there are prices for every budget. Sateen, cretonne, textured cottons, twill, chintz, pebbled weave cottons and satin in slip cover weight are a few of the fabrics suitable for serviceable slip covers.

A variety of plain and patterned materials in slip covers and upholstery creates interest in room decoration. Too much design — that is, patterned walls, floor covering, draperies and furniture coverings — adds to confusion and the room is a restless, unattractive room. On the other hand, too much plain color can be monotonous and lifeless.

Slip covers should be well tailored and made to fit smoothly for best appearance. Snug fitting covers keep their place but should not be so tight that they pull out at the seams. Plain seams are usually used for the less prominent joinings.

NOTES FROM The District
Agriculturist
HOWARD
FULCHER

The quality and quantity of feed on individual farms will vary greatly this winter due to the adverse weather conditions. When straw is fed to live stock, it is necessary to take extra care in feeding practices. Oats may be scarce, barley and wheat can be successfully used for fattening cattle without oats. Wheat and barley should be ground coarsely giving a gritty texture rather than a powdery one, coarsely ground grains are just as digestible. Oats are palatable, but the animal protein is less expensive. Rolled grains are very palatable, however there is little difference in the feed value compared to coarsely ground grain. It takes more care to keep the grinding from becoming too powdery with frozen grain.

When the forage (hay) is of poor quality the feeding value is lower, particularly the feeding value is very low. Coarse straw contains no protein, mineral mixtures and calcium phosphorus are low. These minerals should always be fed but it is important if the sole roughage is straw. In straw feeding oat straw is superior to wheat or rye, barley straw both rough and smooth straw has a tendency to cause sore mouths.

Cutting of hay is questionable, it will help prevent waste, makes easier handling as well as the mixing of good hay with straw but it takes equipment and money to do it. Cattle can make satisfactory use of poorer quality feed only if it is well supplemented to raise the feed value.

LIGHT YOUR WAY . . .

. . . WITH BIBLE STUDY

Very often when you ask someone to do something for you, you are faced with the question: "What will it get out of it?" This question betrays the reward seeking greed that ever lurks in the heart of man.

Peter, a disciple of Jesus, once also asked the question of the Master. He was prompted to do this because of the way the rich young man referred to in the 19th chapter of Mark had acted. The answer that Jesus gave is applicable to our day also.

All genuine Christians could ask this same question, since to follow Jesus always involves a forsaking of the things of this life and world. Think of the foreign missionaries who make tremendous sacrifices: think of the thousands of ordained pastors who forsake many opportunities to advance themselves; think of the laymen of the church who in order to be followers of Jesus must forsake the ways and philosophies of the world; think of the sacrifices of every genuine Christian who is willing to give up earthly possessions to maintain the church. Truly these and many others could ask, "What shall we have therefore?"

To all these the Savior answers, as He did to Peter. He speaks of a two-fold reward — a reward in this life and a reward in the life hereafter. The reward received in this life are the manifold blessings God has upon us own, that their every name shall be blotted and the assurance that they are at peace with God. The spiritual rewards are infinitely richer. He says: "Ye that have followed Me shall sit in the throne of His glory." This all as a gracious reward of God. Now read Matthew 19, 27 to 29.

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

[From Our Own Correspondent]

The students went far and near on Sunday on deputation work for the college. Groups went to Redwater, Casper, Condor, Parkdale in Calgary, Acadia Valley and nearer points; many of them assisted in the extension program of the conference. It was cold, but they all returned with glowing reports of their efforts and the appreciation of the people.

The "Annual" staff is very busy these days getting the necessary pictures for its coming year book. Miss Margaret McGinnis of Elmville, Ont., and Miss Helen Swalm of Didsbury, are co-editors this year, and with their staff, and advisor, Mr. Roger Moyer, are beginning to show evidences of concern and good work early this year.

Rev. and Mrs. Taylor, and family are in the city with relatives. Mr. Taylor took the service in Montgomery church on Sunday in connection with the extension program of the church.

Friday night was a big night at the college. It was "open house" again and in spite of the frigid weather, people arrived from many parts of the country, and over 200 possibly, over 300 people were conducted through the "Beast". Indications are that the calf population is just as high if not higher than the previous year.

We are happy about the ready co-operation that is being enjoyed from practically every cattle man throughout the district. The only "beast" that seems to come to mind, as reported to me by several Cains, is that in some cases, while the calves are penned up right, they are not separated, the heifers from the steer calves. This takes time to do, perhaps only 10 minutes or so at each farm, but when this is all added together, it takes a day or two to do the work and means that the Veterinarian is much later finishing the day's work and particularly the last few farms on the list for that day may not be reached until dark or after. It would help tremendously if everyone would go through the process of separation, keep them confined in a pen or stall and have facilities ready so that the Veterinarians can speedily complete the job.

The second phase of the program, that of blood testing and removing all reactors will be undertaken as soon as the Federal Government gives the word, likely within a year or two. Application has already been made by us for that as soon as it is expedient to do so.

The kitchen pantry is really worth seeing. Arthur Eby has put in the shelves and many drawers for food, so that necessary provisions may be stored in quantity and still be freed and in good condition when needed. The Alumni Association of the college are to be thanked for their consideration of these needs.

A friend made possible the securing of a tea wagon for the dining room. Miss Wolfe, dean of women, secured this last week. We may be able to get a second one with the funds allowed for this type of furnishing.

Mr. Warren Perslin was a recent weekend visitor with his wife and son Mr. and Mrs. Doug Gooding, while his parents were visiting in Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scheidt Jr. attended a wedding in Nanton on Saturday, November 7th.

Mrs. David Pratt was the gingerbread house which was raffled by the Jolly Juniors Girls' Club.

Mr. Art Snyder of Fort Macleod was a recent visitor with members of his family in Didsbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Walmsley and family and Herb Blair, of Calgary, were recent Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and family.

buoy on Saturday, Nov. 21.

Mrs. J. E. Bolton and Mildred Reist were appointed to the program booklet committee. Members program books were judged and Mrs. W. Herbert was the winner with a TV program arrangement for use at the school.

It was agreed that insurance be placed on the school immediately. Arrangements were made to sew a quilt at the home of Mrs. W. Herbert on November 19 and plans were made for a bake sale in Didsbury.

A meeting of the Willing Workers was held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ben Kershaw. Roll call was answered with "Hilarious Recollections." Mrs. F. Jones told of the "trials" of her post in the absence of Mrs. W. Jones. The president reported that the school furnace had been purchased from the school division for use at the school.

It was agreed that insurance be placed on the school immediately. Arrangements were made to sew a quilt at the home of Mrs. W. Herbert on November 19 and plans were made for a bake sale in Didsbury.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Summers, on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Nov. 14. Only a few loyal well-wishers braved the sub-zero blizzard to greet the happy couple at their home Saturday evening. Mr. R. Jackson entertained with some enjoyable side pictures and Mrs. Ross Youngs gave an appropriate anniversary recital.

Mr. R. Jackson presented the honored guests with a neatly wrapped package containing a bouquet of dollar bills, a gift from the school division. Much a lovely three-tiered wedding cake was cut and enjoyed by those present.

BANGS VACCINATION:— The drive to vaccinate the summer crop of calves against Bangs Disease is now in full swing. There was some delay in getting started due to the fact that harvest was so late being completed. I have been receiving the final reports from a number of Township Captains telling me that they have completed their work in their particular "Beast". Indications are that the calf population is just as high if not higher than the previous year.

We are happy about the ready co-operation that is being enjoyed from practically every cattle man throughout the district. The only "beast" that seems to come to mind, as reported to me by several Cains, is that in some cases, while the calves are penned up right, they are not separated, the heifers from the steer calves. This takes time to do, perhaps only 10 minutes or so at each farm, but when this is all added together, it takes a day or two to do the work and means that the Veterinarian is much later finishing the day's work and particularly the last few farms on the list for that day may not be reached until dark or after. It would help tremendously if everyone would go through the process of separation, keep them confined in a pen or stall and have facilities ready so that the Veterinarians can speedily complete the job.
